Newspaper Ads Help Ocean Line

Attributing a remarkable pickup in business to newspaper advertising, Gordon Aiken, district passenger agent of the Grace Line, American Steamship Company, said Monday that since November of last year there had been a 300 per cent increase in passenger bookings for trips between New York and Los Angeles and San Francisco, via Cuba, Colombia, the Canal Zone and Central American countries. Mr. Aiken, who was in Atlanta to confer with John M. Born, steamship and tourist agent, said there was every indication that the steamship service would hold up well during the summer months. He added that at present the new $20,000,000 fleet of the line was taxed to capacity and that extra beds had been installed in all steamers. "I believe," said Mr. Born, "that our newspaper advertising has been largely responsible for the exceptional increase. No doubt we will continue on the same policy of using substantial space in leading newspapers."

DR. HENRY VAN DYKE PASSES IN PRINCETON

PRINCETON, N. J., April 10.—(AP) Dr. Henry Van Dyke, internationally known preacher, poet and essayist, and former minister to The Netherlands, died today at his home. He was 80 years old.

Although Dr. Van Dyke had been ill for more than a year, his death today was unexpected. An intimate friend of Woodrow Wilson, when the latter was president of Princeton University, Dr. Van Dyke was appointed minister to The Netherlands, after Wilson became president.

He was the author of many books of prose and verse, and excellent preacher and diplomat. His declining years were spent in close contact with the happenings in the world but he worked and wrote for the most part in the seclusion of his home.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Ellen Reid Van Dyke, whom he married in 1881; a son, the Rev. Tarsius Van Dyke, pastor of the Congregational church, Washington, Conn.; four daughters, Mrs. W. Hamilton Gibson and Mrs. Murray P. Brush, of Chicago; Mrs. Henry Chapin, of Bermuda, and Miss Elaine Van Dyke, of Princeton. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

W. A. ELLIOTT.
JACKSONVILLE, Fla., April 10.—(AP)—Death caused by a heart attack late yesterday brought to an end the career of William Ansel Elliott, 47, for many years business manager of the Florida Times-Union here and widely known over the south in newspaper circles.

He died suddenly at his home here and although he had been in failing health for several months, his condition had not been considered serious until a few minutes before his death. Born in Nashville, Tenn., on March 9, 1886, Mr. Elliott felt the lure of Florida after arriving at young manhood and left Nashville for Tampa. He later came to Jacksonville and became connected with the Times-Union in 1906. He served for several years as circulation manager and in 1914 was elevated the post of business manager, which he held until his death.

LEADING PHYSICIANS MEET AT TUSKEGEE

TUSKEGEE INSTITUTE, Ala., April 10.—Scores of the nation's physicians were lecturing and attending lectures here today as the annual clinic began here on the closing day of the three-day celebration of the fifty-third anniversary of the founding of Tuskegee Institute. The clinics are being held in the John A. Andrew Memorial hospital, where visitors today divided visits between the clinic and the dedication of two new buildings, which ended the three-day anniversary observance.

The new structures, Frisell library and Armstrong science hall, were dedicated in eulogies by Dr. R. A. Moton, principal of Tuskegee; Julius R. Kitchens and Mrs. L. R. Daly to the educators in whose honor the new buildings were named. The library was dedicated to Howard Burke Frisell, second president of Hampton Institute. The science hall was named for General Samuel C. Armstrong, founder of Hampton.

The medical men who presented papers during the clinic, which will end April 15, during the first day's sessions were Dr. R. A. Vonderlohr, of the United States health service; Dr. A. P. Smith, United States Veterans' hospital, Tuskegee; Dr. H. E. Lee, of Houston; Dr. J. M. Franklin, of Prairie View, Texas; Dr. Seale Harris, of Birmingham; Dr. W. G. Crump, of New York; Dr. H. R. Butler, of Atlanta; Dr. Louis T. Wright, New York; Dr. Alexander Kaye, New York; Colonel J. H. Ward, manager of the veterans' hospital here; Dr. T. K. Lawless, Chicago; Dr. U. G. GREENVILLE, S. C., April 10.—(AP)—James H. Glenn, director in the National Exchange Bank of Chester, S. C., and Raymond N. Speigner, former bookkeeper for the bank, were sentenced today to serve three years and 18 months, respectively, in the federal penitentiary for misapplying funds of the bank.

Glenn, a brother of Federal Judge J. Lykes Glenn, of Chester, and Speigner, pleaded guilty before Judge E. Yates Webb in United States district court here on the specific charge of misapplication of $33,926.15. Speigner also pleaded guilty to aiding Theodore N. Timley, a Chester merchant, to misapply $9,177.35 of the bank's funds. Timley, who is at liberty on bond, is to be tried at the term of federal court opening in Rock Hill, S. C., September 11.

Valuable Byron Portrait Found Beneath Dirt

CHICAGO, April 10.—(AP)—When Miss Gerda Ahlin wiped away the film deposited on a canvas by Father Time she brought to light a portrait of Lord Byron by George Henry Harlow, missing for more than a century, she said today. The picture was brought to Miss Ahlin, who is engaged in the business of restoring time-dimmed paintings, by a client who bought it in an old furniture shop. "There can be no doubt about the authenticity," she said. "My client picked it up in an obscure shop dealing in old furniture. The price, I understand, was only a few dollars, but the canvas is probably worth $2,500."

TAX PENALTY KILLED BY FLORIDA SENATE

Body Also Passes Two Measures Designed To Aid Banks.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., April 10.—(AP)—The Florida senate late today passed a bill eliminating the 25 per cent penalty charged motorists for failing to obtain their automobile tags by February 1 each year.

It also passed two banking bills designed to prevent complete failure of banks through conservatorships and the issuance of preferred stock on which loans may be obtained from Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

Both were introduced today and immediately passed under waiver of rules.

The senate also received its first beer and wine bill of the session. Both senate and house received protests from Florida churches against consideration of any beer or prohibition repeal legislation before the public is given an opportunity to be heard. The house prohibition committee set 3 p. m. Wednesday for its hearing.

A flat $5 and $10 automobile tag bill with no higher scale of fees for heavier cars was introduced in the senate among the 39 pieces of new legislation proposed today. In all the senate passed six bills and defeated one—voting 21 to 16 against a measure by Gomez, Key West, to require rear vision mirrors on all motor vehicles.

"I was terrified on account of eczema that broke out on my face and neck. It looked almost like ringworms at first. When I washed my face the water would make it burn, causing me to scratch it, and I could not sleep at night on account of the irritation."

THE "NEW DEAL" AND THE RAILROADS

Events have moved rapidly during recent weeks and important legislation affecting the financial, agricultural and economic affairs of the nation and its people has been enacted, or is pending. The readjustment program will, it is generally anticipated, deal through Congressional action with transportation matters.

In these monthly statements the Central of Georgia has repeatedly stressed the fact that the transportation situation is of importance, not to the railroads alone, but to the people generally, because transportation plays such a part in every phase of labor, agriculture, industry, commerce and finance. This fact is now more generally recognized than perhaps ever before, and the public as a whole understands that its welfare is at stake in the correct solution of the problem.

Whatever plan may be adopted will, the public may be assured, receive the complete co-operation of railway management. It should and doubtless will receive the support of the public. The problem is not simply to "save the railroads," it is to devise a sound system of regulation and control for all transportation.

In the meantime, with confidence restored and business stimulated, the public can supply what, in its final analysis, is the primary need of the railroads, more traffic. The railroads at this juncture in their affairs seek and will appreciate the patronage of those who ship and travel.

Constructive criticism and suggestions are invited.

MRS. J. M. JONES DIES IN SAVANNAH

Daughter of Bishop H. J. Mikell was Prominent Atlanta Society Girl.

Mrs. John Marshall Jones, only daughter of Bishop H. J. Mikell, bishop of the Atlanta diocese of the Episcopal church, and Mrs. Mikell, died early Monday morning at her home in Savannah.

Mrs. Jones, whose husband is prominent in the insurance business in Savannah, had been ill with a blood infection for several months and her mother, Mrs. Mikell, had been with her for the last two months. Bishop Mikell left Atlanta Saturday to go to his daughter's bedside. She was 26 years of age.

Well known and popular in Atlanta society prior to her marriage in October, 1931, her wedding ceremony performed at St. Philip's cathedral, was one of the most brilliant social events of the season.

As the former Miss Henrietta Mikell, Mrs. Jones was a leader in the younger social set of this city and was active in social welfare and charity work for several years. She was treasurer of the Debutante Club of 1926-27, and was a member of the Junior League and the Cotillion Club. She also had held the office of secretary of the Atlanta chapter of the American Red Cross and was a member of the Young Girls' Circle of the Tallulah Falls school, which is held at the National Cathedral school in Washington, D. C.

Funeral services are to be conducted at 3 o'clock this afternoon at St. Philip's cathedral and interment will be in West View cemetery. H. M. Patterson & Son are in charge.

In addition to her husband and parents, Mrs. Jones is survived by a daughter, Henrietta Jones, seven months of age, and several cousins.

'Natural Buying' Has Started Leonard Executives Say

R. I. Petrie, general sales manager, and A. M. Taylor, merchandising director of the Leonard Refrigerator Company, of Detroit, who are here to conduct a dealer convention.

An encouraging business story is brought to Atlanta by R. I. Petrie and A. M. Taylor, general sales manager and merchandising director of the Leonard Refrigerator Company of Detroit, who are here to conduct one of the nation-wide series of dealer conventions which is being held at the Henry Gray hotel. The Brown Distributing Company, local distributors, is host to the dealers.

From all parts of the United States have come definite indications that "natural buying" has again started, declared the two executives. This buying, they declared, can be traced directly to the restoration of public confidence which followed the passing of the national banking crisis. Mr.

Aviation Officials, Feted Here, Laud Atlanta as Aeronautic Hub

E. R. Breech, in charge of aviation interests for General Motors Corporation, and the presidents of three leading air transport lines were the guests of Lindsey Hopkins, prominent Atlanta capitalist, at a luncheon Monday afternoon at the Capital City Club.

During the officials' visit to Atlanta an announcement was made of an impending merger under the control of General Motors of three lines which will form probably the largest aviation unit in the world. Included among the honor guests at the luncheon were Captain T. B. Doe, president of Eastern Air Transport, Inc.; R. W. Robbins, president Transcontinental & Western Air; H. M. Hanshue, president of Western Air Express; H. A. Elliott, vice president of E. A. T.; and Captain Eddie Rickenbacker, ace World War ace.

Talks were made at the luncheon by each of the distinguished aviation officials, every one of which paid tribute to Atlanta's airport, stating that it was second to none in the country. They praised the work done by the city of Atlanta and the county of Fulton.

They were particularly warm in their praise of the new administration building on the field which, all said, was a model structure. Each speaker said that the improvements made on Candler field fixed Atlanta as the great radiating air center of the southeast.

Mr. Breech, who is general assistant treasurer of General Motors, traced the development of water, bus and air transportation. Commenting upon the matter of competition in various forms of transportation with railroads, Mr. Breech expressed the hope that all railroads would follow the lead of several large roads in becoming financially interested in the newer forms of transport. The airlines are now operating on about one-fourth the capacity received from the postoffice department a few years ago, the speaker asserted. If the air mail postage rate was reduced substantially the subsidy would be wiped out by increased revenue to the government within a year's time, Mr. Breech said he believed.

Southern states have much to gain from air transport, Captain Rickenbacker pointed out in a brief talk. "You have all the advantages of climate and natural resources, and if you put these advantages within a few hours reach of the nations leading cities you will be astounded at the influx," Captain Rickenbacker said.

The speaker also touched on the value of commercial air transportation to national defense. "Six hundred million dollars had to be spent to develop American aviation during the World War and nothing was left to show for it after the war was over. If for a very small subsidy we can maintain through commercial aviation factories, pilots and planes it is of tremendous value," Captain Rickenbacker said.

Among others present at the luncheon, in addition to the out-of-town guests were: L. W. Robert Jr., Mayor John S. Cohen, J. D. Robinson, T. K. Glenn, Erskine Hawkins, Dick Courts, Lindsey Hopkins Jr., John K. Otley Jr., Smythe Gambrell, C. H. Dolan, H. M. Hanshue, Captain T. B. Doe, H. A. Elliott, R. W. Robbins, E. R. Breech, E. W. Rickenbacker, Clark Howell, R. F. Maddox, James A. Perry, Ivan Allen, John Smith, Tom Fincher, A. C. Glenn and G. R. Cushing.

GROCERY LOSES $112 IN DAYLIGHT HOLDUP

Climaxing a series of robberies, a daylight raid on the Good & Cheap Grocery, 125 Courtland street, netted three young white bandits $112 early Monday afternoon, according to reports made to police by R. L. Harwell, manager of the store, of 1023 Oglethorpe avenue. He said the bandits came in while he was using a telephone and when he turned around was covered by a gun held by one of the trio, who robbed him and fled.

Burglars knocked the dial off of a safe in the office of the Zaban Storage Company, 14 Spring street, but failed to open the door of the safe. A brick tosser smashed a window of the Hanover shoe store, 47 Peachtree, and got a pair of display shoes. Silvan's dry goods store at 238 Edgewood avenue, was robbed of clothing and shoes.

The A. & P. store at 470 West Mitchell was robbed of tobacco, cigars and snuff, and a thief locked in a barber shop at 87 Decatur street, got away with slippers, a razor and some pennies.

DIPLOMATIC CORPS NEAR COMPLETION

Long, Gerard and Cudahy Regarded as Leaders for Ambassadorships.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—(P)—Decisions on recipients of the many choice political appointments still dangling temptingly from the democratic patronage tree are taking shape rapidly and probably will be announced shortly.

Unless there are changes in present plans, Breckinridge Long, of Washington, D. C., will be ambassador to Italy; James W. Gerard, of New York, will be ambassador to Argentina, and John Cudahy, of Milwaukee, will become ambassador to Cuba. Other appointments regarded in authoritative circles as virtually certain are J. F. T. O'Connor, of Los Angeles, as controller of the currency; P. A. Walters, Idaho, democratic chairman, as first assistant secretary of interior, and Mayor James M. Curley, of Boston, as ambassador to Portugal.

President Roosevelt himself today sent to the senate three nominations—Mayor Frank Murphy, of Detroit, to be governor general of the Philippines; L. W. Robert Jr., of Atlanta, to be assistant secretary of the treasury, and Peirson M. Hall to be federal attorney for the southern district of California.

Meanwhile, democrats, who a few weeks ago were disturbed at the delay by the administration in distributing patronage were eyeing even more anxiously the heaving away of jobs with the economy ax.

The application of a flat billion-dollar cut to governmental expenditures toward which President Roosevelt is heading means inevitably thousands fewer jobs.

And democrats on Capitol Hill who advocated the stern retrenchment program are wondering how they will satisfy job-hungry constituents who poured in their applications almost simultaneously with the November election returns.

Aided by Lewis W. Douglas, director of the budget, President Roosevelt is fast whipping his economy and reorganization program into shape and an announcement of further details is expected before many more weeks pass.

In addition to sweeping resignation of agencies involving the shifting of functions from one department to another the program means—as outlined by Secretary of the Interior as "luxuries" and the dismissal of "useless employees."

Roper said tonight in an address that the $38,000,000 appropriated for the commerce department would be cut to $28,000,000, with the remainder impounded in the treasury.

Thus far, appointments have been made only to more important posts and little attention has been given to the lesser patronage. There are indications that the naming of postmasters will begin with a rush within the next few weeks.

No decision has yet been reached on who will be administrator of veterans' affairs or chief of the Federal Reserve and it probably will be some time before action is taken on these posts. Ewin Davis, former representative from Tennessee, has a good chance of being a federal trade commissioner.

Veterans To Meet.

The Colored World War Veterans' Association will meet at 8 o'clock tonight in the Tabernacle building, 1000 Gill, commander, announced Monday. All members are urged to attend, he said.

CONSTIPATED SCALP

Causes Dandruff, Falling Hair

Don't let scalp constipation rob you of thick, luxuriant hair! Don't let scalp constipation make you a prey to unsightly dandruff or itching scalp! Most people suffer from constipation of the scalp and never know it! According to authorities, chronic constipation of the scalp affects eight out of ten people and is the primary cause of dandruff, falling hair, itching and other scalp disorders.

Hair grows from the roots through a tube or shaft which opens onto the scalp. When this tube becomes clogged with dead skin and other secretions, the hair cannot force its way through. The tube is choked against the growth of new hair. The scalp cannot eliminate wastes. The scalp cannot breathe.

Keep your scalp clean and open. Give it a chance to eliminate poisonous deposits! Massage it for only one minute each day with Krask's Hair Root Oil. This non-greasy, non-sticky oil dissolves hardened secretions. It penetrates down through the hair tubes—cleaning as it penetrates. It removes dead skin and other deposits. Krask's Hair Root Oil cleans and softens the scalp and keeps the hair tubes open, well oiled and lubricated.

In addition, it imparts lustre to the hair and keeps it in place. Stop scalp constipation today! Ask for Krask's Hair Root Oil at any drug counter.

ALLOTMENT BILL SEEN AS COTTON MILL AID

McSwain Says Plan Will Not Be Irsome When It Becomes Operative.

GREENVILLE, S. C., April 10.—(AP)—Representative J. J. McSwain, of the fourth South Carolina congressional district, said here today that cotton mills "will not find the domestic allotment plan to be irksome when it becomes operative."

"One fact is generally unknown," the representative said, "mills will not be required to pay the tax of possibly 5 cents a pound in advance. The secretary of agriculture will permit this to be paid later."

"As a tax, this will be a lien on the property and will come ahead of mortgages or other claims. This will make it unnecessary for mills to have a large sum of cash to buy cotton. When the price of goods begins to advance, the public will begin buying and the mills will reap the benefit."

McSwain said it is "unlikely" that the Black bill, providing a 30-hour week, will pass.

"Unless President Roosevelt favors the measure, it will not be passed by the house. That much is certain," he said.

New School Excuse Brings Out Police

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., April 10.—(AP)—There is something new under the sun—an excuse for staying home from school.

Robert T. Teaney, chief of police here, tells this one, which he discovered today.

A Miami Beach mother, whose name Teaney declined to make public, received a letter threatening the kidnapping of her 12-year-old daughter.

Becoming alarmed she reported the matter to police. An investigation was started. Then the child told her mother she had written the kidnaper threat so that she would be kept home from school.

Police filed the letter away in their records, and marked the case closed.

END OF S. C. SESSION SEEN FOR EARLY MAY

COLUMBIA, S. C., April 10.—(AP)—Some legislative observers were optimistic enough Sunday to predict the 1933 session will end early in May, despite the mass of vital legislation still pending.

One basis for such an expectation is that the call of "business back home" is becoming more pressing as the legislative term grows more lengthy. Few of the lawmakers are wealthy men and the necessity of their turning to their private affairs "to make a living" may cause them to speed up their public work.

"THEY TOLD ME I'D NEVER FIND A CAR LIKE THIS!"

I'VE had an extraordinary experience the past few weeks. I've been trying out a number of low-priced automobiles. And I wouldn't be surprised if they have me pegged as a pest in a lot of salesrooms.

They said I was looking for too much for my money... that I'd never get the kind of car I specified. But they were wrong. I got a Rockne... the low-priced car that's built by Studebaker, you know.

This Rockne is marvelously built for one thing. Everything about its mechanism is solid and strong like an expensive car. That's the thing that impresses you the first minute you drive it. And Studebaker has made sure that Rockne is completely equipped with all the modern advancements—besides upholstery it as richly as though it sold for $200 more.

TRY A ROCKNE... ## SPEEDING UP AIR TRAVEL

Announcement by the Eastern Air Transport Company that it will install new passenger planes on June 1 which will cut the time of the trip from Atlanta to New York from nine to six and one-half hours, attracts attention to the increasingly important part in transportation in the United States being played by air travel.

The coincident announcement of the consolidation of seven of the great air lines of the country to become a division of General Motors assures still further improvement in the service tendered by these companies, of which Eastern Air Transport is one. General Motors is one of the greatest and most successful corporations in the world and under its direction air transportation in the sections served by these seven companies is certain to be second to none, either in this country or abroad.

Travel by air in the United States is now out of the experimental stage. The extent to which it has "arrived" is demonstrated by the 474,000 passengers who were carried 127,000,000 miles in 1932, an increase from 469,000 passengers and 106,000,000 miles in 1931. The express carried increased from 788,000 pounds to 1,039,000 pounds.

One of the most important contributing factors to the increase of air-mindedness on the part of American travelers is the remarkable record of safety set up by planes operating on regular schedules. Government records of accidents per passenger and mile for all types of transportation show that the air traveler is proportionately in no greater danger of death or injury than those who travel by rail, highway or water.

Air transportation in the United States was still in its infancy for years after the countries of Europe were linked by fast flying air liners, but so rapid has been the development of this type in America during the past few years that the three large companies now operating in this country fly more miles per year than all the companies of Europe put together.

One of the most significant features of the growth in air travel is the warning it contains to the railroads of further loss of patronage unless proper steps are taken to meet this new competition.

The railroads can never expect to occupy the exclusive position in the transportation field that they once held. They can, with proper effort, retain the bulk of travel, but the airplane will get those to whom fast travel is important and the buses will claim most of the purely local travel.

The danger facing the railroads is that the other types of transportation will get more than their share of the business. The only way in which that threat can be avoided is by fare reductions which will make rail travel cheaper than can be offered by the air lines, and offer more comfortable and safer transportation at a rate no higher than that of highway transport.

Many travelers have avoided the use of the air because of the lack of comfort and the disturbing noise of former passenger planes. The new planes will offer every comfort and motor noises will be 70 per cent eliminated.

The fare from Atlanta to New York by plane and by railroad, when the expense of meals and other incidentals of rail travel are included, is about the same. With equal safety, comfort and expense, the railroads are certain to lose still further patronage to another type of transportation which offers a two-thirds saving in time.

We knew the right slogan or word would do it. All hail the man who thought up "conservator."

Note to congress: That strange sound you hear for the first time is the clapping of hands.

A MERITED APPOINTMENT.

The appointment of L. W. Robert, of Atlanta, as assistant secretary of the treasury, puts into the federal service a man well qualified to discharge the duties he will be called on to perform.

The firm of which Mr. Robert is the head is one of the best known engineering and architectural houses in the country, having erected structures of various kinds in many of the states east of the Mississippi river.

As assistant secretary of the treasury Mr. Robert will be called on to supervise the construction of public buildings and his successful business record assures that under his direction the new buildings to be erected for the government during the next four years will be staunchly and economically built.

For many years, under successive republican administrations, southern construction and building material industries have been at a disadvantage because of the favoritism shown to other sections in the erection and purchase of materials for public buildings.

Under Mr. Robert's supervision of the construction of these new buildings this handicap will be removed. Southern business does not seek any unfair advantage over competitors from other sections, but it is entitled to an equal opportunity, and it is certain that under Assistant Secretary Robert's administration, that opportunity will be presented.

A native Georgian, Mr. Robert is a graduate of Georgia Tech and is as equally prominent in public and social circles as he is in the business world. The appointment is an admirable one, and it will be favorably received throughout the country.

RELIEF FOR HOME-OWNERS.

None of the relief measures of the Roosevelt program will directly affect more of the people of the United States than the small home mortgage refinancing bill which is expected to be introduced in both houses of congress this week.

The bill is designed to extend the same relief hoped for from the home loan banks bill as it was first drawn, but which it failed to give in the form in which it was finally enacted. The new system is undoubtedly of value in giving greater stability to the home building and loan associations, but is of little benefit in a crisis such as is now faced by thousands of American home-owners.

Those who built new homes during the boom years, when incomes were large, obligated themselves for loan reduction payments which they could easily care for under economic conditions then prevailing. With incomes greatly decreased by the depression, these payments have become practically confiscatory in size.

The purpose of the bill is to introduce in congress this week is to bring relief to these distressed home-owners by making it possible for them to secure loans up to 80 per cent of the present value of their property, at a low interest rate and without reduction of the principal of the loan for a period of three years.

Such a bill will mean the saving of the homes of thousands of American citizens, the diversion of millions of dollars into the channels of trade, and should be of marked assistance to the loan companies in relieving them of the burden of carrying loans which are not now profitable to them because of the inability of the borrowers to meet the terms on which they were made.

The dog is man's best friend. If you keep a dog, there's never anything left for hash.

Anyway, nobody is eager to make the world safe for any kind of system we have now.

But the new rule against buying evidence doesn't apply to the fellow who needs an acquittal.

Still, the pedestrian might be equally rude if he could get away quickly.

The turn is near when discussion of economic problems makes you want to pit up.

Exodus.

Jews, men, women and children, are leaving Germany by every train. Hundreds arrived in Paris in one day. From Poland and Switzerland come similar reports about Jewish refugees pouring in. They don't go to Austria, for unless the signs fall, there will be trouble in Austria shortly.

The cases of maltreatment of Jews by nazis are now grown so numerous that the excuse about apocalyptic attacks on the Jews is no longer valid. Moreover, the anti-Jewish campaign could not have any other result but this.

Herr Hitler may say that communists disguised as nazis are doing the attacking, but he personally announced that he is helpless among enemies. He is not a Jew, but a Jew's enemy.

These things are reported by great foreign newspapers such as the Manchester Guardian, the London Telegraph, Vienna Reichspost, the Petit Parisien and others. A terror is usually something that is not seen, but the Jews are being seen and they are being dragged to prisons and tortured, made to drink oil, sing Nazi campaign songs and beaten with steel rods until they are unconscious.

If the Law Would Be Respected

Let It Make Itself Respectable

By Robert Quillen

The law has become a tyrant. It grants immunity to the rich and powerful and persecutes the weak and the poor. It encourages crime to obtain evidence against the criminal. It violates the constitution to enforce a statute. It tortures witnesses to obtain evidence.

Unrebutted abuse of power has obtained the sanction of custom, with the result that innocent men and women now dread the law and its courts more than criminals do.

Consider the plight of the witness in the public prints that some well-meaning citizen, having reported a crime, is held in jail as a material witness. That doesn't happen to rich men. It happens only to nobodies who are too poor to furnish bail.

And because it happens, the innocent who are wise flee from a scene of crime as the guilty do. They keep their secret to avoid being treated as criminals. And thus the law defeats itself and by its unfairness estranges those who would be allies.

He is afraid. He has done no wrong, but he feels that he is helpless among enemies. "Is it true that you once served a jail sentence for perjury?" asks the lawyer. "Is it true that you were fired for stealing?" is true that you forged your employer's name on a check?"

The lawyer knows these things are not true. He is trying to discredit the witness. Perhaps the other lawyer objects to these questions and the objection is sustained. No matter. The point is made. Insults have made the desired impression on the jury.

That, but the harm is done. The fact that he was forced to deny these things causes some suspicion of his guilt.

The witness is a nobody to the world, but he is somebody to his family and his friends. He is ashamed before the only people whose good opinion matters to him.

It is a rare court and a rare case that witnesses no unfairness or flagrant discourtesy to a witness. Unless all of the witnesses have wealth and influence.

The forgotten man never knows when he will be a witness. If the New Deal would give him tardy justice, let it protect him from tyranny in the courts that exist to safeguard his rights.

HOLLYWOOD IN PERSON

BY MOLLIE MERRICK.

(Copyright, 1933, by the North American Publishing Alliance, Inc.)

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., April 10.—Executives from all branches of the motion picture industry, meeting with Will R. Hays, will attempt to draft a solution of the motion picture industry's present troubles.

They will attempt to discover why hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of properties are bought each year by studios and never shown, while others (solvent ones, incidentally) buy only what they intend to use and then make it do in a manner that there is a margin of profit.

The executives will try to fathom the mystery of the highly-paid and unemployed in many of the studios. They will endeavor to ascertain why certain producers put everyone they can get their hands on to work on term contract and—quite frequently—never find a spot for them at all.

In the meantime these people have invested vast sums of money, all of which goes into that mysterious "overhead" which has wrecked motion picture making.

In short all Will R. Hays and his motion picture executives must do is solve the problem of "overhead," solve the problem of inefficiency in high places—solve the difficult business of discovering how men have been paid to sit on the half-million-a-year and up class.

New in idea is the Constance Bridges play, "Fidelity Insured," given a try-out at the Fox Theatre, one of the film colony's pretentious affairs with a wary eye on the piece's merits for the cinema. It is the problem of the man about to marry a twice-divorced girl and his worries about her. Is he capable of doing what two other men have failed to do? Is there any insurance he can take on her fidelity? It is a witty, smooth-flowing play with a cute idea that comes home sufficiently to the much-married professional audience to have a certain amount of sting behind its witticisms.

Counsel for Harriman last week made an unsuccessful effort to arrange bail without the necessity of Harriman's appearance in court, in the ground that the order of trip to the courtroom might bring about a relapse.

Development of the Tennessee river, Norris said, will furnish work to thousands of men. He plans to meet the vast expenditures necessary by government appropriations and bonds, which will be retired by income from electric power generated by the development.

Norris declared he favored starting with the Tennessee river project because $150,000,000 of public money already has been invested there. He will oppose government expenditure on the fertilizer plant at Muscle Shoals because he does not believe it would be fair unless the manufactured product could be made available to farmers in all parts of the United States.

The first work to be undertaken, if congress approves the legislation, will be to build a transmission line from Muscle Shoals to Cove Spring, Ala., which is primarily a flood control project.

Norris hopes to make about $50,000,000 available immediately and put men to work one week after the president signs the bill.

Text of Roosevelt's message follows: "To the Congress: The continued idleness of a great national investment in the Tennessee valley leads me to ask congress for legislation necessary to carry out this project in the service of the people."

"It is clear that the Muscle Shoals development is but a small part of the bureau of reclamation, fifth of the entire Tennessee river."

"Such use, if envisioned in its entirety, transcends mere power development. It enters the wide field of flood control, soil erosion, afforestation, elimination from agricultural use of marginal lands and distribution and conservation of industry."

"In short, this development of war days leads logically to national planning for a complete river water-shed involving many states and the future lives and welfare of millions."

"It touches and gives life to all forms of human concerns. I, therefore, suggest to the congress legislation to create a Tennessee valley authority—a corporation clothed with the power of government but possessed of the flexibility and initiative of a private enterprise."

"It should be charged with the broader duty of planning for the proper use, conservation and development of the natural resources of the Tennessee river drainage basin and the surrounding territory for the general social and economic welfare of the nation."

"This authority should also be clothed with the necessary power to carry these plans into effect. Its duty should be the rehabilitation of the Muscle Shoals development and the co-ordination of it with the wider plan."

"Many hard lessons have taught us the human waste that results from lack of planning. Here and there a few wise cities and counties have looked ahead and planned. But our nation has 'just grown'."

"It is time to extend planning to a wider field, in this instance comprehensive in one great project many states directly concerned with the basin of one of our greatest rivers."

"This is a true sense in a return to the spirit and vision of the pioneer. We are successful here we can march on, step by step, in a life development of other great natural resources within our borders."

"FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT."

TWO REAR-ENDED IN CHINA-JAP WAR

Chiang Is Reported in Agreement to Independence of Manchuria.

LONDON, April 10.—(UP)—An Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Canton, south China, today reported that General Chiang Kai-shek, chief of all China's armed forces, had reached an agreement with Japan under which the independence of Manchukuo would be recognized by China in return for which Japan would proclaim the abolition of the so-called "unequal treaties."

Japan also would create an Asiatic "Monroe Doctrine" hands-off for the rest of the world, the report said, a point to which General Chiang also was said to have agreed.

The Daily Telegraph here meanwhile printed a Shanghai dispatch relating that Chang Hsueh-liang, the ousted "young general" who formerly held sway in Peiping until the Jehol province debacle, had departed secretly for Italy aboard an Italian liner, the Conte Rosso, accompanied by his wife and 17 secretaries.

CAMP APPLICANTS FLOCK TO CAPITOL

Enlistment in Corps Not to Begin Until After April 18 Conference.

Enlistments in the citizens' conservation corps will not be begun until after a nation-wide conference of relief directors is held in Washington on April 18, Herman DeLaPerriere, state Reconstruction Finance Corporation director, said Monday.

Mr. DeLaPerriere's office at the capitol was deluged with men of all ages Monday, but the state director said they all would have to return to their homes and await further instructions from Washington.

More than 200 men were at the capitol Monday seeking enlistment in the corps, and Otto F. Bading, representative of the United States department of labor, said that more than 3,500 applications were on file at his office in the federal building.

Director DeLaPerriere said that his information was that the first enlistments would be of single men between the ages of 18 and 25 and who had parents or others in their families dependent on them for support.

Those recruited, he said, must assign from $22.50 to $25 of their monthly salary to their dependents. In Washington Monday, Representative Robert Ramspeck conferred with Robert Fechner, director of emergency conservation work, to urge that "camp Jospin" in the vicinity of Fort McPherson, be used as a conditioning camp for recruits selected for the civilian conservation corps.

Peace Through Peaceable Methods Urged in Address by Paul Harris Jr.

An urgent appeal for world peace was made Monday night by Paul Harris Jr., noted peace advocate and director of the Youth Movement for World Recovery, in an address at the Y. W. C. A. auditorium which was sponsored by the Citizenship League series, the League of Women Voters, and other Atlanta organizations. He was introduced by Dr. D. P. McGeechey, secretary of the lecture series.

Mr. Harris, who resides in Washington, D. C., described the methods of his organization in working for peace and called for action rather than mere moral backing from his hearers. "The majority of people are for world peace, but only a small minority are actively working for it. To gain this peace peacefully the whole world must be treated as a single group. You can not have peace merely by adjusting one country," he declared.

"The youth of the world must band together to work for international peace," he said. Mr. Harris is directing an organization which strives to gain peace through peaceable methods. Mrs. Sinclair Jacobs circulated a petition which will be presented to President Roosevelt asking drastic cuts in military and naval costs and to use all his power to obtain international agreements for universal disarmament, thus carrying out the spirit of the Kellogg Peace Pact.

Breweries in Georgia Are Ready To Make Beer on Moment's Notice

While 19 of Georgia's sister states continued to quench their 13-year thirst with legalized beer Monday, the beverage flowed, but not to the public, in Atlanta and other cities of this state. For to make near beer the breweries' first must make beer and then de-alcoholize it.

The process followed in the manufacture of near beer reveals that beer can be had in Georgia almost as soon as the legislature votes legalization of the beverage. All the breweries have to do is to stop the near beer manufacture at the point where the de-alcoholization begins and put the brew on the market.

The Atlanta Ice and Bottling Company, Atlanta's only brewing plant and the largest in the state, is among those making beer and then de-alcoholizing it into near beer. It was pointed out that the product can be put on the market almost instantaneously and that beer can be made cheaper than near beer as it takes more equipment and more labor to make the non-alcoholic brew now legal in Georgia.

Atlanta bootleggers, convinced Monday that success in beer sales in the city depends on who gets the first load into the city, Monday continued frantically to attempt to buy supplies from breweries in Louisville and other cities.

Two reputed Atlanta bootleggers who Sunday said they would sell beer to their patrons Monday admitted during the day that they had been unable to obtain a supply of the brew.

tions in addition to the United States, to be represented in the discussions. President Roosevelt will have opportunity to take up effectively the matter of controlling the surplus of this product by international agreement.

As to silver, Hull said the question of how to restore its price level is being taken up with the British during preliminary conversations with Ambassador Lindsay and probably will figure in the MacDonald-Roosevelt talks.

MACDONALD IS PREPARED FOR GENERAL DISCUSSIONS

LONDON, April 10.—(AP)—Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald will go to Washington free to discuss with President Roosevelt any and all Anglo-American and world problems.

The prime minister trip was the subject of a cabinet session today at No. 10 Downing street, and in the house of commons Mr. MacDonald said he intended to put no limit on the subjects which might be touched on in his conversations with Mr. Roosevelt.

One of the members of the house asked whether Britain's return to the gold standard was to be considered, requesting assurance that parliament be consulted before the British government acted in this direction.

"The object of this visit is not to negotiate or fix an agreement," Mr. MacDonald replied, "but to discuss questions with which both of us are confronted."

HERRIOT TO HAVE ROLE OF GENERAL INFORMANT

PARIS, April 10.—(AP)—The status of Edouard Herriot in his discussions at Washington with President Roosevelt will be that of free agent acting more as informant than negotiator, it was learned today.

The former premier, who lost the premiership last December rather than surrender his conviction that France should make her war debt interest payment to the United States, will not be empowered to make decisions at Washington which would modify the position of France.

This was explained in a semi-official announcement. It was explained also that M. Herriot would contribute to the work of world economic relief undertaken by the American people.

If the Washington conversations develop to a point requiring the French to make a declaration, the declaration will be communicated through Ambassador Andre De La-Boulaye.

Premier Edouard Deladier presented President Roosevelt's invitation at today's cabinet meeting and explained the reasons for the appointment of M. Herriot. The cabinet approved the selection.

By F. Marion Crawford.

WHAT HAS HAPPENED BEFORE. Angela Chiaromonte, daughter of a rich Italian in a city near Rome, has had her engagement to Ernesto Traversi announced. The union has been arranged by her father, from whom she has graciously taken orders all her life. Leaving the church with her father and fiance, their luxurious automobile is bumped from behind by an old car driven by Giovanni, a handsome young Italian army officer who, with several companions, has come to the city to join a street celebration and carnival. Giovanni sees Angela in her father's car and falls in love with her at once, although he does not know who she is. He resolves to find out, while Angela waves him good-bye, and with her father and Ernesto and her maid, Mina, goes to her home. Mina and Giovanni are talking about love. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

INSTALLMENT II.

"Orlando!" Mina said contemptuously. "Mother was there, too. She was very beautiful—with sort of golden hair. Did mother have golden hair?"

"She did."

"Why aren't there any photographs of mother?"

"I've told you—because your father doesn't wish it."

"Because your father doesn't wish it?" She finished her sewing. "There!"

"Thinks, dear—that's perfect. Oh, listen to that music." She went out onto the balcony. She leaned on the balustrade as she peered off eagerly. Mina followed her out. "Hear it?"

"Yes, I hear it," Mina answered rather dryly.

"Mina! Let's—we've got two hours before luncheon."

"Let's what?"

"See the carnival."

"Your father would skin me alive," Mina said, holding up her hands in horror. "He'd never know about it," Angela persisted. "Listen to that—come on—I've got to go."

"I certainly will not."

"Then I'll go alone. . . .!" Angela called, running into the room. Angela tore open the bureau drawer and took out a shawl, which she threw around her.

"Angela, you can't!" By this time Angela had rushed out of the room and Mina with a gesture of despair went on another shawl and started after her. The two women were soon in the midst of a crowd of men and women and children. There was music from pipes, violins and accordions. There was a look of happy contentment on Angela's face as she took all this in.

Mina, at her arm, held her arm. "I tell you we've got to go home."

"Oh, come on," Angela made her way to where a group had gathered to watch the antics of two men who were acting as the front and back legs of a horse. They pretended to chase and kick at various members of the crowd. Suddenly the front part of the horse seemed to notice Angela. Bobbing its head up and down the horse stopped in front of her, pawing the ground. Angela laughed and patted the horse's head. "Nice horse—what's your name?"

"Giovanni. What's yours?"

"Angela," she laughed. "Would you like some sugar?" Mina was becoming indignant now. "We must go," she insisted. "Everybody's looking at us."

Reluctantly Angela followed Mina. But not before she had once more patted the horse's head. For a moment the horse hesitated. Then, somehow, the front legs became separated from the hind legs and a bewildered soldier watched his front legs go tearing down the street after Angela and Mina. The soldier who had been on the front legs caught up to them in a small deserted side street near the square. Unable to see very well with the equine head over his shoulders he tripped and rolled over, displacing the head. He was at the feet of Angela. The man was Giovanni Severi.

Giovanni smiled blandly up at Angela, and with a slight bow as though he were just being introduced, said: "Good afternoon."

"You ought to be ashamed of yourself," Mina said sharply.

"I am—shall we have an—ice?" Giovanni said, standing up.

"I think it would be better if you went back to your—your—"

"My better half?" Giovanni supplied with a smile.

"Yes."

"He can live without me."

"Angela! Mina suddenly screamed. "You have—what are you doing next to me—wait here." She ran off in the direction from which they came. Giovanni turned back to Angela. He was really delighted that someone had stolen his purse.

"Should I see if I can help her?"

"How is your father?" And how is your uncle? Wasn't that your uncle—that other man in the car?" Giovanni asked.

"He's only 31—going on 32."

"That's a good uncle age."

"Well, he's not my uncle," Angela replied angrily.

"But I didn't—I mean—some of my best friends are uncles."

"And some of my best friends would do something if an old lady's purse had been stolen."

"I'll go find her—please wait."

Angela dashed off. Mina was being jostled by the crowd, still looking around everywhere for the one who took her purse. Suddenly she was caught in a procession of dancers who were trying to find another one of the side streets. Giovanni came as far as the square, looked around once or twice with his eyes closed, obviously not trying to find anybody. Then he went back toward Angela. In the meantime, Angela had noticed a small café across the street with a few tables on the sidewalk, none of which were occupied. She sauntered across the street and sat down. From inside the café could be heard the soft music of an accordion and a violin.

Giovanni, returning, walked over to her table. "I couldn't see her anywhere," he said.

"Oh, dear!" Angela started to get up.

"You'd better wait here—you might both miss each other. He noticed that she seemed somewhat doubtful about this. "If you're afraid of being seen—why don't you go inside?" She looked toward the interior and saw that the café was practically empty. "If you prefer, I'll stay out here," Giovanni said as she continued to hesitate. "Cross my heart."

"Would you mind," Angela asked. She got up and went into the café.

Miss Frances Boykin And Mr. Barnett Honored at Parties

Important on today's social calendar is the marriage of Miss Frances Boykin and William Barnett, of Jacksonville, Fla., which will take place this evening at 8 o'clock at St. Mark Methodist church, to be followed by the reception at which Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Francis Boykin, parents of the bride-elect, will entertain at their home on Wesley road for members of the wedding party and out-of-town guests.

Miss Boykin and her fiancé were honor guests at the buffet supper at which Dr. and Mrs. William Warren Jr. and their sister, Miss Louise Candler, entertained last evening at Canlanow, their home on Briarcliff road. Mrs. Charles Howard Candler assisted the hosts in entertaining. Pink snapdragons and Easter lilies were effectively arranged in a silver vase, centering the decoration of the main table, which was overlaid with a handsome lace cover veiling pink satin. Pink tapers in silver candlesticks reflected the chosen color note. Members of the wedding party and out-of-town guests were present.

Mrs. Vaughn Nixon and her daughter, Mrs. Malon Courts, will be hostesses at luncheon at 1:30 o'clock today at the home of Mrs. Nixon on Andrews drive, a complimentary gesture to Miss Boykin. The guests will include the bride's attendants and out-of-town guests.

Mrs. Richard Hardwick entertained at a beautifully appointed buffet luncheon yesterday at her home on Montclair drive as a complimentary gesture to Miss Boykin.

The hostesses were assisted in entertaining by her mother, Mrs. Lester L. Shivers. The guests included members of the bride-elects wedding party, Misses Louise Candler, Mamie Raine, Elinor Smith, Harriet Wynne, Louise Winfree, of Lynchburg, Va.; Helen Flournoy, of Columbus, Ga.; Edmonia Henley, of Birmingham, Ala.; Katherine Field, of Baltimore, Md.; Mrs. Malon Courts and Mrs. Richard H. Bennett Jr., of Chattanooga, Tenn.

Miss Boykin and her fiancé were central figures Sunday evening at the dinner party at which Mr. and Mrs. Turner Jones entertained at the Piedmont Driving Club.

JUNIOR LEAGUE JOTTINGS

The Junior League meeting will be held at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon at the Piedmont Driving Club instead of at 3 o'clock in order that League members may attend the funeral of Mrs. John Marshall Jones (Henrietta Mikell), former member of the Atlanta league.

The April meeting of the Atlanta Junior League is always fraught with interest because at this meeting the new officers and five League members are elected to the board of directors of the Junior League.

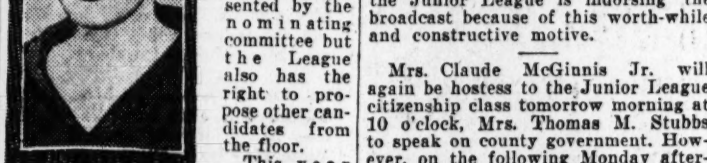

This year the League has a slate usually presented by the nominating committee but the League also has the right to propose other candidates from the floor.

This year the chairman of the nominating committee, Mrs. Glenn Ryman, has particularly able and popular members of the League and serving with her are Mesdames Claude McGinnis Jr., Frank Owens, Mrs. Louise Candler, and Joseph Cooper.

In addition to the election mentioned above, a delegate must be selected to accompany the new president to the Georgia State conference to be held this year in May in Philadelphia. Mrs. Allison Thornwell will preside this afternoon and we are all so happy to know that she will be with us again.

The third in the series of pre-Easter fashion shows being held at Davidson-Paxon's on Wednesday morning from 11 to 3 o'clock and in which Junior League members appear as models, will take place tomorrow in the ready-to-wear department on the third floor. Mrs. Norman Coolidge is chairman, and she announces that no formal review will be staged at any time tomorrow, but Miss Liza Tway, Caroline Seldin and Mesdames Rhodes Perdue, William Ogden and Fritz Ogden will be present and as hostesses will model, by request, any of the adorable spring dresses to be found in the department. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

Last Tuesday the Junior League, in connection with the children's department of Carnegie library, made debut on the air and Mrs. Ruth Turner Jones, of the Junior League, was heard. The program is scheduled over WSB from 5:05 to 5:15 p. m. every Tuesday afternoon. The club at the convention of the Georgia Federation of Music Clubs to be held in Macon April 13, 14, 15; piano, Class A, Blanche Krugman; Class B, Laura Wallace; Class C, Mildred Harding. Violin, Class A, Hazel Taylor; Class C, Bowen David, Musician-ship, Mildred Harding.

Mrs. Glenn Ryman, chairman of the nominating committee, Mrs. Ryman, is always particularly able and popular member of the League and serving with her are Mesdames Claude McGinnis Jr., Frank Owens, Mrs. Louise Candler, and Joseph Cooper.

Atlanta readers of the Junior League Magazine will be gratified to find that our League appears three times in the April issue. On page 30 in an article entitled "Money-Raising," Atlanta reports on the success of store day held at Davidson-Paxon's last December 6. Again on page 67, a sketch of Mrs. Ruth Turner Jones is seen, and on page 74 the heading of the "Society" department is also drawn by Mrs. Stevens. The magazine, as usual, is full of interesting news and Junior Leaguers will do well to peruse it carefully.

Junior Leaguers doing welfare work are cordially invited to attend the Georgia conference of social workers to be held this year in Augusta, April 24, 25 and 26. The conference will take the form of an institute similar to the one conducted last spring by Miss Clara Tousey for the Atlanta Junior League.

As cleaning the house for spring has probably yielded up many garments no longer in use, Junior Leaguers are asked to bring all such items as discarded shoes, hats, bedding, clothing for men, women and children to the League meeting this afternoon to be given through Mrs. Perrin Nicolson to the Unemployed Relief.

Denmark" when an Opening Forcing bid of two made against three Aces and three Kings. With such unusual holdings, there was no occasion to fear that the hand would be passed out in Rubber play. Of course, in Replay Duplicate, on the second round of bidding, it was a matter of catch-as-catch-can, and had West remembered the hand bid by South, he might have countered the Opening bid of two clubs with the brilliant bid of seven no-trump. However, I cannot greatly blame the lady for placing a little confidence in her husband and his partner.

South's bid of five hearts and North's Raise to seven hearts should have put her on her guard, but I suppose she had been dealing with her partner long enough to realize that they frequently do very dumb things, and when they do a wise or brilliant one, they are stepping out of character.

Minnesota Sends an Open Box Pattern
BY FLORENCE LA GANKE.

Then they clipped it from the paper and pasted it into their quilt scrapbooks.

They sent for the actual or life size pattern and direction sheet and set to work. The blocks as given in the sheet do not allow for seams to a quarter-inch must be added on all sides when cutting.

Be sure to choose small figured, color-fast material. Be sure that the pieces are cut on the straight of the goods and be sure that all pieces are cut true and firm.

In piecing use No. 60 white thread. Have a firm knot at beginning and a number of over and under stitches to fasten the end of seam. Start the seams in one-quarter-inch from all edges. This allows you to press out the seams flat and avoid bunches in any place.

Although the picture shows a striped material it need not be used. In fact, if it is used great care must be taken to have the stripes meet each other or run in opposite directions as shown here.

This quilt may be an all-over pattern or it may be pieced in blocks as shown here and then put together with strips of plain material.

The actual pattern for the Open Box Quilt Design may be obtained by sending 3 cents and a self-addressed stamped envelope to Nancy Page, in care of The Constitution, Atlanta, Ga. Back patterns may be secured by sending an additional 3 cents for each pattern requested.

FRIENDLY COUNSEL

BY CAROLINE CHATFIELD

Problems of general interest submitted by readers will be discussed in this column. Correspondence invited. Your name held in confidence. Write Miss Chatfield, care The Atlanta Constitution.

Dear Miss Chatfield: How can you handle a neighbor who constantly drops in for a visit and talks about her woes, her husband, her children, her servants, her health, her pride and prejudices and a host of other personal subjects that runs through her mind, until you nearly go crazy listening to her? I like this particular neighbor well enough and don't want to hurt her feelings but I can't spend the rest of my life being bored by her.

Answer: The answer is simple. There is a specific cure for the cure with which you are afflicted. I know a woman who had a similar problem to deal with and she worked out this formula which she says never fails to work. She lets her friend talk for 15 minutes about her woes. She listens attentively, nodding her head at intervals, sighing when a sigh is suitable, laughing when laughter is called for, but she never says a word. Then when she has had all she can stand, she takes the bull by the horns, so to speak, turns the conversation on herself.

She tells that after a few minutes of glassy-eyed attention to her talk, the visitor will invariably make an excuse and get up to go. These selfish, selfish neighbors are not interested in anything that doesn't directly concern them. They won't go often to see, or stay long in the company of any friend that denies them the privilege of talking about themselves and their woes.

You can't change a person's nature. You can't divert a selfish person's attention from himself, no matter how entertaining you may be. But you can protect yourself against unbearable boredom by turning the tables and boring him until he takes refuge in flight.

CAROLINE CHATFIELD.

Dear Miss Chatfield: I used to go with a boy that lived in my town but his work took him away. He tried to persuade me to marry him and go with him but I refused. Soon after this my mother died and left me with the care of eight little children, the youngest four years old. This boy and I still love each other and I want to marry him but he lives so far away that I couldn't get back to my own family more than once a year. If that often he is not willing for me to go with other men and consequently I am a lonely young girl with the responsibilities of a mother and housewife, cut off from the pleasures of youth, separated from my sweetheart, and denied all the things that my heart craves. Please tell me if I have the right to leave the children to seek my own happiness. I believe when a girl finds love and wants to marry that she has better go ahead for she may never have another opportunity. Yet I also believe that her younger sisters and brothers have some claim upon her.

AT-PARTING-OF-THE-WAYS.

Answer: Who can look around at the tragedies that come as a result of thwarted love and advise any young girl to give up her chance to marry the man she loves, for the sake of sisters and brothers who can get along without her? In the nature of the case the father will be married a second time and will install a step-mother in the home. But he may wait just long enough to seal the doom of this girl's hopes with regard to the absent fiancé.

It is not just or fair for a young girl to sacrifice her youth to the cares and burdens of rearing a family of children. The condition of the family finances might necessitate her giving up some pleasures that the heart of youth craves but not even poverty should warrant her giving up her chance at marriage in order to run her father's establishment, which she shouldn't be willing for her to do it.

Perhaps it would simplify matters if the youngest child could go to live with the sister until she is old enough to rejoin her family. This might not be ideal from the standpoint of the fiancé but when a man loves a woman and wants to marry her he should be cordially willing to share her responsibilities and to do his utmost to help her solve her problems.

CAROLINE CHATFIELD.

Crackers Open Season Today With Smokies in Knoxville

'Boots and Saddles' Ushers In Fine Program at Lakewood

It was a tough day on the echoes at Lakewood park Monday afternoon.

There were the echoes looting along, doing nothing at all, when suddenly the boss echo leaped to his feet in utter amazement—that "Boots and Saddles" he heard? And no time to rehearse the young echoes in the job? Why he hadn't heard that in years and years.

They blew "Boots and Saddles" and they ran off five of the finest races imaginable, excepting of course, the fifth race at the Downs.

It was the first day of the week's race meet under the direction of Mike Benton, who seems to have taken Lakewood park by the scruff of the neck and made something out of it.

There were five races—there was the judge's stand; there were the loudspeakers—the bugles—the band—the barrier leaping in air to let go the race horses—there were the thundering hoofs down the track—the flash of silk in the air—the "thwack" of bat or bare hands slapping the mounts—it was grrrrrrrr! There is no poetry of motion like that of a running horse.

There were some 3,500 people in the stands, a great Monday crowd. Atlantans evidently refused to believe that a real bona-fide race meet could be run off—but there it was. And Wednesday's race card—the next one—should see several more thousand there. It's on the up and up—the best of the entries from the southern tracks—and some good jockeys.

FRESH SPORTING MONEY. There was no pari-mutuel betting. And there were no books in evidence. This made the situation much better than the up-town situation. There is betting every day in every city in the south on horse races. And Atlanta is no exception.

There were no books at the races Monday. It was said, however, that anyone wanting to have a little nice, clean fun could indulge in a game. This game was a guessing game and the score was kept with funds. It was a very harmless game. They guessed which horse would win. But there was no gambling.

The odds were ascertained in a haphazard fashion. And there must have been some funny prices. The Atlanta races are in the Racing Form and there was a special wire sending the reports of the races out to a lot of wicked cities where people are allowed to commit sins such as betting on the horses. The "talent" took a terrible pasting.

Many of our best people were there. And on Wednesday, when the next program is run, the day will be "governor's day," with Governor Eugene Talmadge and his staff present in a box.

The paddock buzzed with an interested crowd, watching the saddling of the mounts and the weighing in of the jockeys. There seemed to be a very great curiosity among the younger visitors. A great many of them spent the afternoon trying to find out what they were doing wrong by attending a horse meet. They plaintively complained that they find nothing wrong at all.

FRESH MONEY TAX. Mike Benton, whose progressive administration of Lakewood park, is winning him many admirers, pointed out that a week of race meeting would be worth several thousand dollars in tax money to the state if racing were permitted.

"The race horse people tell me," he said, "that they believe Atlanta would be a better race town than New Orleans because of its central location, the location and condition of the track."

The horsemen like the track at Lakewood. It is a bit hard at present but will be in much better condition for the second program Wednesday.

THOSE CRACKERS DEPART. There were no tooting bands at the station when those Crackers pulled out for Knoxville last night. But they left a city in the throes of a very real enthusiasm.

Mr. Charley Moore, the overseer, was greatly upset at the flat statement here that the Crackers would take the first five games from the Knoxville ball club. "My goodness," said Mr. Moore, "any club may get a well-pitched ball game and win. How do you expect us to win five straight games?"

It was pointed out to Mr. Moore that in the deals of the past five or seven years the Crackers have been dealt a deuce. But this year they have been given a few aces. The new deal calls for a running leap toward the top of the pennant pole with the hapless Knoxville as the springboard.

THE CRACKERS' OPENING DAY.

Reports from the Junior Chamber of Commerce headquarters are that tickets to the Crackers' opening game are going well. It is expected that Atlanta will come out as usual and win the attendance day cup.

It has never been the habit of your old partner to twang the zither of civic pride in regard to opening day ball games. People should go to ball games simply because they like baseball. There is rarely little danger of any city winning the cup from Atlanta.

Once New Orleans conceived the brilliant idea that if school children were admitted for a kopek or a tobacco tag the baseball cup might be won. The children came in and smashed down fences. They mobbed the place. There were so many children in the park that New Orleans could not count them. The counters fell over exhausted after they had reached the total of 438,191 people. They said this was not near the total. It was an even worse exhibition of counting than the long count Tunney got in the second Dempsey fight.

This was tossed out by President Martin. He said he did not think there was anyone in New Orleans, except Bill McGreggor Keefe, of the Times-Pic., who could count that high.

Chattanooga and Nashville have won cups by putting greased pigs and clowns on the field and spending more money for the cup than the gate attracts. Birmingham lashes itself into a civic frenzy and gets out a crowd about every five years.

It was Mr. Rudyard Kipling who said, "The cities are full of pride, challenging one another." This is not quite true. The Junior Chamber of Atlanta says that the rival cities of Atlanta are not full of pride but instead are full of false hopes. Atlantans are being urged to go out and see a ball game. This will win the cup. Keep the home fires burning 'til the boys come home—Thursday!

Westrope Rides Three Winners

LEXINGTON, Ky., April 10.—(AP) Johnny Westrope, leading jockey at Havana and Tropical Park, was the riding star at Lexington today, winning three races on a program composed of seven claiming events and the Gallaher farm purse for two-year-olds. Westrope scored with Captain Red in the fifth race, won the sixth with Bonnie View, a 30-to-1 shot, and completed his triple aboard Flying Dimp in the eighth. Both Captain Red and Flying Dimp were well supported in the mutuels, the former paying $3.75 and the latter $4.50 for $2.

'FREE-FOR-ALL' RACE EXPECTED BY CLUB OWNERS

Southern League Has Five Teams To Battle for Pennant.

By Dillon Graham, Associated Press Sports Writer.

Absence of an outstanding favorite leads Southern League Association club owners to look for a closer race in the campaign starting today, more interest and a resultant even money break after two poor seasons financially.

There is no standout team as the clubs face the barrier. Opinion as to the September title winner is widely divided between five teams—Chattanooga, Nashville, New Orleans, Atlanta and Memphis. Also it appears there are no real weak entrants. Although hardly possessing first division strength, at least at this time, Birmingham, Knoxville and Little Rock are strong enough to offer sturdy competition to the other quintet.

HOPE FOR BREAK.

Lack of rivalry during the closing months of 1932, as only Chattanooga and Memphis were in the flag fight, hurt gate receipts all over the league. Few, if any, of the club owners made money. In view of the economic situation none of the managers expect to make money this year. Their only hope is they do not lose this year.

Southern baseball will be run on a better business scale this year than ever before. Operating expenses have been reduced, salaries have been cut and bleacher prices have been slashed. New blood has been imported to draw the attention of the casual customers.

The start of the chase finds Chattanooga, the 1932 champions, pitted against Nashville in the Tennessee capital city. Atlanta plays in Knoxville, New Orleans in Birmingham and Little Rock in Memphis.

Every team will rely on veteran hurlers in an effort to get off to a winning start. Alex McColl will pitch for the Lookouts against Jackie Reid, of the Volunteers. Bob Hasty will be on the mound for the Crackers against Jim Edwards, of the Smokies. New Orleans will start Fred Johnson against Clay Touchette, of the Barons. Little Rock will use Willoughby against Clarence Griffin, of the Chickasaws.

EARLY INDICATOR.

Attendance at opening day games—and also for the first time in the campaign—will give some indication as to whether baseball will be a drawing card this season. Trophies are given to the two cities having the largest opening day crowds. One trophy is available to the leader among Atlanta, New Orleans, Birmingham and Memphis, and another to the Nashville, Knoxville, Chattanooga or Little Rock team that draws the largest first day attendance.

A year ago Nashville won in its division with 15,250, the largest of the first day crowds. Atlanta won the battle between the larger crowds with 12,027. First day attendance dropped off some 14,000 last year as compared with 1931. Two years ago 69,820 persons attended as against 69,820 last season.

Here are the inaugural day figures for the past two years:

Team	1931	1932
New Orleans	10,000	6,572
Atlanta	17,201	12,027
Nashville	17,015	12,730
Little Rock	17,015	12,730
Birmingham	8,505	7,068
Knoxville	8,505	7,068
Memphis	8,505	7,068

GRANT ENTERS SECOND ROUND

PINEHURST, N. C., April 10.—(AP)—Representatives of the "Upper Ten" of the tennis world met little opposition from their opponents, mostly college players, today as they battled through the first round of the annual North and South tournament, heralded as a tryout for Davis cup candidates.

J. Gilbert Hall, seeded seventh, disposed of three collegians to enter the fourth round, losing only one game in the six sets. Merriam Cunningham, of Duke University, took a 4-to-1 lead in the second set, but James Johnson nor Harry Primrose, both of the University of North Carolina, could duplicate the feat.

J. Gilbert Hall, seeded seventh, marched to the fourth round with little difficulty. Drawing a bye in the first round, the Orange, N. J., star eliminated Harvey Harris, of the University of North Carolina, 6-2, 6-3, and then conquered Harley Shuford, another U. N. C. entry, 6-1, 6-4. Shuford took the offensive and piled up a 4-to-1 lead in the second set, but Hall increased his speed, and broke through Shuford's service twice to take the match.

Marcel Rainnie, Canadian Davis cup player and first seeded foreigner, was the only star to get an extra set. Lawrence Jones, U. N. C., lost the first set, 6-3, but he took the second, 6-1. Gilbert Hall, seeded seventh, won the third while Jones tired, and the Canadian won, 6-1.

Gregory Mangin, national indoor champion, overcame Howard Moss, of Atlanta, 6-2, 6-0, 6-2, while Bryan Grant, another seeded entry, subdued Herbert Vail, Glen Cove, L. I., 6-2, 6-2.

Berkeley Bell, Austin, Texas, seeded eighth, advanced on the default of Allen Croom, Wake Forest (N. C.) College.

S. Bernon Prentice, of the Davis cup committee, has indicated he will come to Pinehurst to observe the play in the two last rounds.

SHOCK-PROOF WATCH FOR FIRST HOMER

George Kanter, of Seher's, who offered a watch to be placed in a baseball which would then be batted out to the Crackers on opening day, was forced to withdraw that test when Crackers officials ruled it out because of the danger in scrambling for the ball. The present plan is to have the watch placed inside a baseball, which will then be sewed back together and batted out to the Cracker player making the first home run in the Knoxville series. If no home run is hit the player with the highest average will receive the Benrus shockproof watch. Charley Moore is also to be presented with a writing set.

posed of seven claiming events and the Gallaher farm purse for two-year-olds. Westrope scored with Captain Red in the fifth race, won the sixth with Bonnie View, a 30-to-1 shot, and completed his triple aboard Flying Dimp in the eighth. Both Captain Red and Flying Dimp were well supported in the mutuels, the former paying $3.75 and the latter $4.50 for $2.

There was only one accident. H. Gower, riding Chief's Gypsy, falling at the turn when the saddle girth broke. He was not hurt.

GOOD OFFICIATING. The meet was efficiently conducted by the officials. Arthur N. Elrod, presiding judge, who has been officiating continually on leading American and Canadian tracks for 32 years, said the Lakewood track was one of the fastest he had seen. He thought it was a splendid race meeting.

A few friendly wagers were made during the opening day's program. The results:

FIRST RACE—1-mile, 3 years and up.

SUN FRIAR WINS LAKEWOOD FEATURE

OPENING RACES WELL ATTENDED; TRACK IS FAST

Winners Come Home at Lakewood

Diadours Nears Record Time in Speedy Half-Mile Performance.

By Jack Troy.

Favored by fine weather and a fast track, the four-day spring race meeting at the Southeastern Fair track started yesterday afternoon with about 3,000 enthusiastic spectators in the grandstand.

Marking the return of the running horses to Atlanta for the first time in many years, the opening day turnout was considered excellent by Mike Benton, president of the Southeastern Fair Association, sponsor of the meeting.

The Debutante Club, the G. M. A. band and many nobles were in the grandstand and witnessed times that compare favorably with those made on southern and eastern tracks.

There came the call "Boots and Saddles" floating on the clear, clean air, and the program was on. It was a grand day for the horse fanciers.

Sun Friar, with Jockey H. Lad, substituting for W. Taylor, up, won the feature and final event of the five-race program, the mile and one-sixteenth for three-year-olds, which have been non-winners since January 1, and the Arthur Brooks purse of $150.

Absolutely ridden by Jockey D. Cox, substituting for H. Bracken, broke away from the post in the lead and held it to the turn, with Sun Friar moving up. It resulted into a two-horse race with Sun Friar and Jockey Les Dye up, in the second race at Lakewood yesterday. Opossum, ridden by Jockey D. Cox, third, is shown in the rear.

The excellent picture at the bottom shows Diadours, Jockey Dye up, nearing the finish line and a victory over Leeward, ridden by H. F. Newton, in the fourth race. Staff photos by Kenneth Rogers.

While Chicago still seethes with disputes and investigations following the amazing upset which brought Joe Savoldi victory over the peerless Jim Jennings, Cherokee Indian, in the star match of the sports stage tonight at the city auditorium where Ivan Vactoroff, Russian champion, battles Blue Sun.

Another redskin, Chief Tom Marvin of the Osage tribe, meets Frank Brunowicz, Polish title-holder, in the one-hour limit semi-windup, best two falls in three, and a 15-minute preliminary involving local talent opens the show promptly 8:15 o'clock.

None of the grapplers on the program tonight is a stranger to Atlanta fans. Two of them in fact, Jennings and Marvin, are old friends who have appeared here on many occasions and always given satisfaction. Brunowicz made a great hit only last week here by his antics in a match against Gino Zarabian, the Italian finally won in three falls, but not until he had been extended to the limit by the rough and tumble Polish champion.

Vactoroff, who reached Atlanta Monday morning, showed here once last year and gave a good account of himself at that time, but the records show that the 235-pound Russian has become a much better wrestler in recent months. He has wins and draws with a number of the upper strata grapplers to his credit. Like most of the Russian matmen, Vactoroff has an especial fondness for the flying mare, and because of his tremendous strength, is able to use this hold with particular discomfort to his opponents.

Jennings is expected to rely upon his nerve lock, a grip whereby he exerts a paralyzing pressure on the nerve centers just below the ears, and his speed of foot to overcome a weight handicap of some 20 pounds under the Indian in an even chance with his huge opponent.

Tom Marvin, who uses the Cherokee chin lock more successfully than the Cherokee wrestlers, tackled a Pole posed against Garibaldi that he can assimilate almost unlimited punishment without weakening.

The second race, slowest on the program, and not so very slow at that, saw Buzzy Boo, owned by J. W. Johnson, and ridden by Bracken, win by a length from Butch, ridden by Les Dye. Opossum, with D. Cox up, was third. The time was 1:14.1-5.

The third race, three-quarter-mile for three-year-olds and upwards and the Mel Wilkinson purse of $150, breeding under the wire a length ahead of George "K," ridden by H. Grover, Nancy Marie, with D. Cox up, was third. The time was 1:13.2-5.

George "K" was in the lead at the break-away and held the advantage coming into the stretch, when Miss Hutchesson responded to Jockey Himes and won in a fast five. The time was 1:13.2-5.

The fourth race, slowest on the program, and not so very slow at that, saw Buzzy Boo, owned by J. W. Johnson, and ridden by Bracken, win by a length from Butch, ridden by Les Dye. Opossum, with D. Cox up, was third. The time was 1:14.1-5.

This race was three-quarter-mile for three-year-olds and upwards and the Mel Wilkinson purse of $150. Conventional broke away from the post to take the lead and held it to the horses bunched around the curve. Buzzy Boo closed fast to win.

DYE STARS. Jockey Les Dye took the first day's honors with a first and second. Colonel Frederick J. Paxson, an enthusiastic sports fan, was in a box. The Debutante Club was represented by Misses Sally Spalding, Fort Scott Meador, Sue Burnett, Clara Scott Nunnally, Elizabeth Whitten, Margaret Cummings, Gertrude Askew, Marion Calhoun and Mrs. Freeman Strickland and Mrs. W. T. Drury, also in box seats.

The meet was efficiently conducted by the officials. Arthur N. Elrod, presiding judge, who has been officiating continually on leading American and Canadian tracks for 32 years, said the Lakewood track was one of the fastest he had seen. He thought it was a splendid race meeting.

A few friendly wagers were made during the opening day's program. The results:

FIRST RACE—1-mile, 3 years and up.

Although outweighed 10 or 12 pounds, Battling Chink Tarpley battled through 10 rounds to a draw with Frankie Allen, in a furious feature bout at the Service Club, Fort McPherson, last night.

It was one of the best fights the fort has seen this season and a large crowd attended.

In two eight-round bouts Charley Brown decided Kid Peck and Battling Bozo took the nod over Ken Ken. Sid McCarley kayaked Jack Willard in the second round of a preliminary bout.

Miss Hutchesson (E. Himes); George K. (Grover) and Nancy Marie; Mother, Play Wreck, Primer and Blue Hawaii also ran. TIME—1:13.2-5.

SECOND RACE—1-mile, 3 years and up. Buzzy Boo (Bracken); Butch (D. Dye) and Opossum (D. Cox); Elrod, Conventional, Mueller and Gamma Delta also ran. TIME—1:14.1-5.

THIRD RACE—1-mile, 3 years and up. Temple Dancer (D. Sorenson); Gypsy Chief (D. Cox) and Zebra (A. Albert); Kai (D. Cox) and Pussie also ran. TIME—1:12.1-5.

FOURTH RACE—1-mile, maiden two-year-olds. Diadours (L. Newton); Leeward (Stadford) and Wheeler (G. Bracken); May Play and Belles also ran. TIME—1:13.2-5.

FIFTH RACE—1-mile, 3 years and up. Sun Friar (H. Lad); Absolute (D. Cox) and Foreign Relations (Cabrera); Tom Wad, Lady General and Chief's Gypsy also ran. TIME—1:14.1-5.

Although outweighed 10 or 12 pounds, Battling Chink Tarpley battled through 10 rounds to a draw with Frankie Allen, in a furious feature bout at the Service Club, Fort McPherson, last night.

HASTY TO FACE TAYLOR'S CLUB IN FIRST GAME

By Jimmy Jones.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., April 10.—Opening day in all the land embraced by the Southern league, finds Atlanta's Crackers quartered in this mountain city of east Tennessee, awaiting the coming of game time at the Smokies' baseball park.

Robert Keller Hasty, the sentimental gentleman of Marietta, has his pitching arm flexed and ready for the task of performing nine innings against Tommy Taylor's Knoxville team and Eddie Phillips, the silver fox for the mask and shin guard, is ready to catch him. Phillips likes nothing better than acting as Bob Hasty's battery mate.

GOOD CONTROL. "I could catch him in an arm chair, he has that good control," the silver fox said on the way over. Hasty, after a Godspeed from his two most loyal rooters, Mrs. Hasty and Bob Jr., got on the Crackers' train and ready for the task of performing nine innings against Tommy Taylor's Knoxville team and Eddie Phillips, the silver fox for the mask and shin guard, is ready to catch him. Phillips likes nothing better than acting as Bob Hasty's battery mate.

"I've been looking forward to starting a season for Atlanta ever since I was a buck private at Camp Gordon and that's been a long time ago," declared Bob. The mountainous right-hander came to the Crackers in mid-season last year by outright purchase from Birmingham. His average for the time was five won, seven lost. By winning five straight for the Crackers and a few odd ones, he finished with a record of 15 won, 10 lost—one of the best in the league.

Manager Charles Augustus Moore, himself making his maiden voyage with the Crackers, admitted he "felt fine" about things tonight. The enthusiasm of his ball-club coming over was sufficient proof to him that they are ready and eager for the fight. As for Charley, there is no one who loves a battle more than he.

"I never saw a ball club so keyed up and I want to keep it that way all season," said Moore. He has great confidence in the veteran Hasty, who not only is in good shape but has pitched consistently good ball throughout the spring season with the exception of the day he went in to relieve against Washington, when he was not warmed.

REST OF LINE-UP. The rest of the Cracker line-up will be exactly as it was in the Sunday game with Birmingham at Montgomery, with the exception that Montgomery's pitcher, Phil Phillips, will replace Neider. Moore is still uncertain of whether he will start the veteran Russell (Red) Rollings, or 18-year-old Rudy Laskowski, who has been pitched like a cool mill at third base.

"Rollings' arm is still a little sore, while Rudy's as strong as a sling shot; I won't know until I have had a good look at Rollings in infield practice before tomorrow's game," Charley said.

Moore looked at Rollings just before leaving Atlanta, the sports writer thought his throwing had improved somewhat. That was a real farewell practice in Atlanta, too, by the way. Moore saved the last day for the best. He spent the afternoon grilling his men on "inside" baseball and highly technical matters such as signals for picking men off second, double and delayed steal and base running. He pitched a great game in the mud at Montgomery Sunday in beating Birmingham, 2-1, and deeded the rest. Leonard Mayo, Atlanta boy who is on the team, was the star of the game and possibly to pitch batting practice.

HIGH SPIRITS. The players, looking terribly self-conscious in their crisp new uniforms and as usual, their school uniforms for the season's opening, worked out in high spirits at Atlanta before leaving and have high hopes of getting a fast start.

Manager Moore gave forth the information that his mind had been set at rest about his outfield. He is confident that Sington and McKee will be on the team, while Weiss, who is a new starter, will come through handsomely in a right field.

"Several Birmingham people, including Zip Newman, the sports writer, told me Sunday that Weiss was an unusually slow starter, but a great ball player when he got in stride," Charley said.

He believes that Sington, while he may not keep the terrific pace he set in spring training, will be a dangerous threat to pitchers all season, regardless of how much they work on him.

"He's a threat as long as he's up there swinging that big bat and I'm going to keep him in there, sink or swim," Moore declared.

Moore will start the following line-up and batting order against the Smokies today:

Neider, catcher; Hasty, Hearn, Bliehn, Kleinhans and Butcher were the other active players brought along.

Since the Knoxville park only holds 6,000, that will just about be the crowd. The Crackers took the opening here for the sake of harmony at the league meeting had on the promise of a few extra Saturdays at home.

President Robinson and Business Manager Moore will be here tomorrow in time for the game. Hughes Spalding and Bobby Jones, directors, preferred to remain in Atlanta for the big opening there Thursday.

BID OF BLICK IS ACCEPTED AT HARTFORD

Six Teams To Compose New Circuit; Big Boost for Bowling.

By Jack Troy.

Atlanta bowling circles heard with delight last night that formation of the United States Duck Pin League, plans for which were announced first in The Constitution, was assured.

The league will include Atlanta, Willimantic, Conn., Boston, Mass., Baltimore, Md., Washington, D. C., and Richmond, Va.

John S. Blick, owner and operator of Blick's bowling center in the Chandler building, wired last night that his bid made in competition with several bowling centers had been accepted. Play will start in the fall.

LEADERS.

First plans for the league were made by Blick, Frank Barber, of Willimantic, and George Iseman.

At the meeting held yesterday at Hartford, according to Blick's wire, Harry Greer, popular sportsman and ex-president of the National Duck Pin Bowling Congress, was elected president, with Iseman elected secretary-treasurer. Both officers live in Washington.

Another meeting is scheduled in Washington Thursday, which Blick will stay over to attend, when final details of cost of franchise and other items will be decided.

FORWARD STEP.

General opinion is that this new inter-city league will prove to be the most progressive step the duck pin game has made in many years.

It will afford Atlanta bowlers and sports fans an opportunity to witness the best bowlers in the country compete against a strong Atlanta combination in match games next season. The five other cities will send their teams south and Atlanta will also travel around the circuit during the season.

EMORY NETMEN PLAY KENTUCKY

University of Kentucky's crack tennis team will oppose Emory University's netmen at 2 o'clock this afternoon in a match to be played at Dobbs and Dewey courts at Emory. Emory lost its first match of the season to Florida Friday, 5-3.

Jack Boykin, who won the state intercollegiate tennis title in 1931, is captain of the Emory squad. Other members are Nick Folio, Fincher McDaniel, Pierre Howard, S. R. Bridges, Frank Morrison and Sam Seitz. All except Morrison and Seitz were on last year's team.

Hurls for Crackers

Robert Kellar Hasty, a sentimental gentleman from Marietta, Ga., will toe the mound for the new Crackers in the opening game against the Smokies at Knoxville this afternoon.

Know Your Crackers

Thumbnail sketches of new Cracker players:

PETE SUBKO—first baseman, bought from Birmingham, where he played on pennant-winning team in 1931. Started baseball career with Mobile in 1926. Has never hit below .318 in six years of pro ball. On pennant-winning team at Montgomery in 1927. Good, steady, concentration player. Not flashy, but efficient in every department. Only 27 years old. Home, Akron, Ohio.

WALL DASHILL—second baseman, bought from Chattanooga. Started with Marshall, Texas, in 1922. Has been on pennant-winning teams at Pensacola and Chattanooga. Considered excellent fielder, double-play man and base runner.

FRED CHATHAM—shortstop, bought from the Boston Braves midseason last year. Started baseball career in 1924 with Dallas, Texas league. Boston Braves bought him from Portland in 1929. Considered good fielder and dangerous, although not a heavy hitter. Believed to be easily improved ball player this year. He and Eddie Phillips are the only players of old guard retained, with exception of pitchers.

RED ROLLINGS—third baseman, bought from St. Louis Cardinals. Started with Mobile in 1925. Has played with both Boston Red Sox and Braves. Led Western league in hitting and fielding last year while playing on Denver team.

EDDIE PHILLIPS—catcher, bought from New York Yankees. Started playing around Worcester, Mass., his home city, in 1921. Started with Boston Braves in 1922. Has played with Nashville in Southern, Albany and Toronto in International, Pittsburgh Pirates, Detroit Tigers and New York Yankees. His brilliant work as relief man for Bill Dickey last year helped Yankees win pennant. Hit three home runs and batted .367 in 11 games.

FREDY NEISLER—second-string catcher, signed as free agent. Recommended by Joe Guyon, former Tech football hero, and Johnny Brock. Only previous pro experience with Asheville, in Piedmont league, last year. Looks like good hitter. Very aggressive receiver.

ART WEIS—outfielder, bought from Louisville, Ky. First player purchased in new league. Led league in hitting with Birmingham in 1931, but fell into slump at end of season.

HEYDLER BANS FRATERNIZING IN SENIOR LOOP

President Lays Down Five-Point Program for Players.

By Alan Gould.

Associated Press Sports Editor.

NEW YORK, April 10.—(AP)—For the purpose of developing a greater spirit of sportsmanship and the ball field and giving the game more customer appeal this year, John Arnold Heydler, president of the National League, today addressed a striking appeal to his players to avoid fraternizing with rivals or loafing at any stage of the forthcoming pennant race.

With the start of the 1933 season only two days off for the big leaguers, and baseball as a whole facing what he described as an "acid test of popularity" in competition with other outdoor amusements, President Heydler laid down a "five-point" program for National League players.

"Never before have we faced more stringent money conditions or keen competition from other sports, motoring and amusements," wrote Heydler.

GO TO BEST.

"People are going to go to ball games and they are going to patronize other sports and amusements. But they will budget their expenses and will choose only what promises the most enjoyment.

"No outdoor game can compare with a major league ball game. But that game must be played aggressively by both sides. It is in your power to build up and maintain the interest in our game by a display of heads up, winning spirit and this does not surrender until the last man is out. To sustain the spirit of contest and the ethics of sport, you are asked to accept and live up to the following:

"1. Do not mingle on the field with players of the opposing club. Keep away from their bench and dugout. Remain off the field when the other club is entitled to its exclusive use for batting or fielding practice.

"2. Do not enter the clubhouse or dressing room of the other team. Many players have shifted clubs during the off-season. The urge to hold friendly reunions will prevail, but the proper place for such contacts is not on the field.

"3. Do not take it for granted that a top-scorer against you the game is lost and that you can take it easy. Every man who is still entitled to your best effort and exhibition of skilled performance to the end of the game. Run out your hits. People do not like to see runners loafing.

"4. Action and hustle, and still more action and hustle, are needed in our game. Be enthusiastic and cheerful. Don't moan and quit in a big slump. Look for changes for the fellow who keeps on trying.

"5. Whether as active player or as sub on the bench, be alert and interested in every moment of the game. Encourage your brother player if things are breaking bad for him and go for you."

Harridge Indorses Non-Fraternizing.

CHICAGO, April 10.—(AP)—The American league heartily indorses the move of the National league in warning players against fraternizing on the baseball field, President Will Harridge said tonight.

"For the past four years we have warned the players against too much friendliness on the playing field," President Harridge said. "It's all right to have great friends among other clubs off the field, but when the boys are in the park and ready for a game, friendship should cease and they should play hard to win."

PREP BASEBALL IS PICKING UP

Atlanta's prep baseball schedule will pick up considerable momentum this week with the opening of the Big Six league and the seventh and eighth rounds of the North Georgia interscholastic conference.

The Big Six will open its card at 3 o'clock this afternoon with three games on the slate. Tech High plays at Monroe; Boys' High meets Columbus on the Henry Grady field and G. M. A. Journeys to Gainesville to meet Riverside Military Academy.

The Boys' High-Columbus game is a highlight of the initial card as Columbus, the newest member of the league, has practically a veteran team returned from last year. Boys' High also is a much improved team and will be particularly interesting.

Another round of the Big Six will be played on Friday afternoon, with the Riverside-Tech High game at Henry Grady field outstanding.

In the N. G. I. C. Gainesville and Decatur appear as the main attractions. They are bitter athletic rivals and the Gainesville team has shown the most improvement in the league since the opening, while Decatur also is a better team.

University and Fulton continue to hold first place with a string of victories and no defeats. Both should win today's games, and Friday day as the big day when University meets Fulton at Almond Park.

Other games on today's card are Fulton at Marietta, Marietta at Columbus, Marietta at Commercial, and North Fulton at Commercial.

ROBY ARRANGES FINE PROGRAM

What promises to be the best fight of its kind ever staged will be seen at the city auditorium Thursday night when Robert Roby, Lawson, of Atlanta, fights against a former member of the United States Marine Corps, in a big fight.

Roby's last card, although greeted by small cash attendance, proved to be packed with action and this time he expects to give the customers more action. In Lawson he has signed a fighter who likes his fighting in a big way. Heard is the same kind of scrapper. It should be a great battle.

This fight tops a set of good preliminaries. Battling Mims, well known fight promoter, meets Walter King, Tallahassee fighter, in the eight-round semi-final. Two other bouts and a battle royal fill out the card.

Tickets are on sale at Five Points Soda Company, Yales, Milton and Amos drug stores.

Mrs. Fraser Wins Medalist Honors

Mrs. Carlyle Fraser won medal honor with an 88 Monday morning on the Piedmont park course in the qualifying round of the women's golf tournament for members of the Piedmont Park Women's Golf Association.

Mrs. Mark Larned was second. First and second rounds were played at 9 o'clock this morning and continue during the remainder of the week.

The pairings:

Mrs. C. Fraser vs. Mrs. F. M. Jetties.
Mrs. George Reid, bye.
Mrs. Mark Larned, bye.

Four Crackers Off To Charlotte Club

Four young ball players, optioned to Johnny Dobbs' Charlotte club, left Cracker headquarters last night to report to their new jobs.

They were Lefty Carithers, Hugh Cline, Jim Henry, pitchers; Jimmy McCarther, young shortstop from St. Paul.

President Will Harrington and Manager Moore told all four of the boys to "go out there and get it, and that they would get another chance with the club next spring. Both Carithers and Casey, who have considerable experience with the Crackers, are eager to gain experience and return to the local club.

McCarther, former Gonzaga University football and baseball star, is a particularly good infield prospect.

Poor Man, Beggars, Kiddies Share In Columbite's Humanitarian Work

By GLENN RAMSEY.

COLUMBUS, Ga., April 10.—(AP)—The poor man, the beggar man, and everybody's kiddies share in the tireless energy of Mrs. Edith Kyle Harrison, Columbus woman leader in meeting human emergencies.

When there is need for immediate action, whether it be feeding food refugees or saving the life of an injured fireman, Mrs. Harrison is equal to the call and goes about it cheerfully.

"I am one of those rare women," Mrs. Harrison said, "who have nothing to do with them. I am a widow and live with my parents. There are no servants to direct and I go to what I please. When I can help in any activity for others, there is nothing that gives me more pleasure."

Dressed in dark blue, with a close-fitting hat, and wearing an almost ideal smile, Mrs. Harrison gives the impression of capability and she has plenty of that, judging from the many humanitarian movements in which she has not only participated but been the leader.

About two years ago when fine peaches were hanging from trees in the miles of orchards in this section of the state, Mrs. Harrison gave notice that because of the depressed prices those who desired might have them for the picking.

Mrs. Harrison read the notice and she began thinking. She hit upon the idea that the fruit could be made available during the winter months to the less fortunate. The next day the papers carried a card from Mrs. Harrison to all the women of the city.

One time she saved the life of a fireman. A friend's house was afire. She went over to aid. During the efforts of firemen to bring the blaze under control, one of them was struck on the head with a hose nozzle. He was on top and immediately crumpled and fell to the narrow first floor roof.

Mrs. Harrison saw him fall and, aided by another fireman, she succeeded in getting him down. He was through a window and carried him alone to the first floor. She called for others and they took him.

That was the beginning of the friendship of Columbus firemen and Mrs. Harrison. Now they are chief aids in filling stockings for the poor kiddies at Christmas time.

Mrs. Harrison for years has been the chairman of the committee that sees to it that every child in Columbus has something at Christmas. The fund is raised by the Ledger-Examiner newspapers but it is Mrs. Harrison's duty to take care of the distribution.

She has done the work so well that each year the publishers of the Columbus papers have requested that she come again. It's just a joy, she says.

DR. CARL C. GREGORY FUNERAL RITES HELD

Hundreds Pay Tribute To Minister at Church in Macon.

MACON, Ga., April 10.—(AP)—The large auditorium of the Mulberry Street Methodist church was packed this afternoon for funeral services for Dr. Carl C. Gregory, pastor of the church, who died Sunday night of a self-inflicted bullet wound.

Bishops W. N. Ainsworth and John M. Moore, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and Dr. Ed F. Cook, pastor of the Vineville Methodist church here, officiated. After the service the funeral cortege began the journey to Birmingham, Ala., where the body will be interred Tuesday.

Eight ministers of local Methodist churches were pallbearers.

Friends said depression caused by ill health led the minister to shoot himself. He was found near Sunday Saturday in the edge of Baconfield Park with a bullet wound in the left breast. A pistol lay beside him.

A friend told of a conversation Saturday with the minister, who complained that he could not memorize his sermon as was his custom, and he found it difficult to concentrate on any subject. He had been ill for months and had returned only last Thursday from two months' leave of absence during which he sought to improve his health.

At his bedside in a local hospital when the end came was his wife, the former Miss Emma Farley Collins, of Birmingham, and his sister, Miss Lillian Gregory, of Birmingham. Other survivors include three sons, Carl C. Jr., John Collins and Vann Oliver Gregory.

506 HEAD OF CATTLE ENTERED IN SHOW

MACON, Ga., April 10.—(AP)—Thus far, 506 head of beef cattle have been entered in the fat stock show to be held here April 20 and 21.

"Basing my predictions on the results of the show held in Savannah Friday, I would say the outlook is very favorable," said W. B. Bennett, animal husbandry extension agent of the University of Georgia.

"The 213 head of fat stuff entered in the Savannah show sold for an average price of 4.4 cents per pound of carcass weight, or from 2.50 to 3.00 cents per pound. The 137,340 pounds of fat beef sold Friday returned the farmers of Georgia and lower South Carolina a total of $7,061.30.

"With these facts in hand, then, with an ever larger number of cattle, I am sure the Macon show will surpass the expectations of the farmers entering the 506 head of cattle."

TARZAN THE APE MAN No. 14

While they were discussing the coming safari to search for ivory, Holt asked Jean: "Can you shoot?" "Like an angel! Watch me..." she laughed. The young man called Riano to fetch a gun, which Jean took from the native, to his astonishment, and put it to her shoulder.

"Mr. Holt, please throw your nice hat as far as you can," requested Jean. And as Holt did so she aimed, fired and neatly pierced the helmet in midair, some twenty yards away. When Riano returned with it, she told Holt: "Let that remind you how you doubted my ability!"

Several busy days of preparation followed before the safari got under way. Jean had her wish and, much elated, roughed it with the rest as the party traveled along the river stretches toward the denser jungle. Holt watched Jean closely, keeping constantly near her.

He could not keep his gaze from her rapturous face. Far from the settlement, they first made camp. The noise of the forest was all about them. Jean was thrilled. No thought of danger entered her mind. Yet soon she was to experience life as she never dreamed it existed.

By JOHN L. COOLEY.

NEW YORK, April 10.—(AP)—

Accumulating signs of acceleration in industry and a fairly general advance in commodity prices stimulated stocks to their best rally since March 15 today.

The market finished at the top of a lively advance, with gains ranging from 1 to 4 points for active issues.

Industrialists made a particularly strong showing throughout the session, leading an early rise and displaying bullish tendencies in the period of quiet that preceded the final spurt.

Steel, silver, motor and copper shares were prominent, though all divisions brightened emphatically during the last half hour. Sales totaling

1,750,000 shares were the largest since March 10.

With wheat, silver, copper, sugar, cane, cocoa and cotton quoted at better levels and bonds firm, stocks obviously felt impelled to reflect the improved spirits widely noticeable.

An encouraging report on current steel operations, together with a favorably interpreted unfilled tonnage statement from the leading factor in that industry, after the recently available statistics on automobile production further fortified speculative sentiment which seemed eager to anticipate a spring business upturn.

United States Steel common and preferred, up 2 and 3 points, respectively, set a good pace for their division. Anaconda, Kennecott, Inland

Steel and Hooker also improved market fractions to nearly 2 points.

United States Smelting, International Silver and National Lead gained more than 3 points. Union Pacific,

American Telephone and Electric advanced 2 3/4 to 3 1/4. Gains of 1 to 2

for rails were plentiful.

Expanding motor car sales and output are quickly reflected in the steel mill, which are now working at sometimes more than 17 per cent of capacity.

United States Steel apparently enjoyed a substantial increase in new orders late last month since unfilled tonnage was down only 13,198 tons, whereas a decrease of 100,000 tons or more would not have surprised Wall

Street.

The search for an answer to the inflation question still went on. Some quarters maintained that the country was to see a controlled credit expansion, but no currency "tinkering," and no reduction in the dollar's gold content.

Stock exchange call loans got back to 1 to 2 per cent renewal rate and some concessions were made on time loans and prime commercial paper.

PUBLICITY SOUGHT FOR SHORT SALES

Borah Urges Congress to Force Daily Disclosure of Transactions.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—(UP) Senator William E. Borah, republican, Idaho, asked congress today to force full publicity of short sales on the nation's stock markets.

He introduced a bill today which would require exchanges to compile short sales records each day after the close of business. They would be published on the following day in a newspaper situated in the same city as the exchange on which the sales are made. A maximum fine of $10,000 and imprisonment for one year would be penalties for violation of publicity regulations, which would be drawn by the federal trade commission.

In addition, bank credit automatically would be withheld from any persons failing to comply with the publicity order. Investment bankers also would be forbidden to list securities on any exchange which refused to make available the list of short sales.

Borah's measure was regarded in some quarters here as the first move toward eliminating or enforcing more rigid regulations on this form of stock transaction.

Short selling of stocks was partly blamed by administration authorities during the Hoover regime for sagging prices of securities on the various exchanges. The senate stock market investigating committee, at the request of former President Hoover, made a thorough inquiry into this practice.

Testifying in behalf of the government, Clyde L. King, president of the Atlanta Plow Company, told a jury in federal court here Monday that he paid $3,000 to Lewis Williams, former intelligence officer of the department of internal revenue, as a bribe to get him out of his difficulties.

King, who entered a plea of guilty to charges of evading his income tax and who served part of a prison sentence for his part in the case, told the jury that he made the payment to Williams in the postoffice at Rome with the full knowledge of J. T. Rose, Georgia collector of internal revenue, and others. The Atlanta capitalist testified that Williams, who was assigned to investigate the charges against him, had agreed to accept the $3,000 as "part payment" of his service in aiding him (King) get out of the difficulties surrounding the income tax evasion charges.
